

“Catherine”: WHITE-GOLD DIAMOND

This month’s Catherine colorway is inspired by a lovely image of a white/gold gem I fell in love with a few years ago. (See image at right.) The interplay of the gold and blueish silver intrigued me.

To make it a bit different than previous colorways, I’ve split the “D” color into two. The “D” facets in the Upper Right and Lower Left quadrants are a light khaki, while the “D” facets in the Upper Left & Lower Right are a light grayish blue. The swatches are on Page 2.

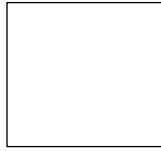

If you decide to create this special Catherine, please keep me apprised of your progress! Enjoy!
